

School of Political and Social Sciences, University of Phayao Announcement

Subject: The Principle of Good Faith for Administration According to Good Governance

---

The School of Political and Social Sciences, University of Phayao, acknowledges the significance of being a good governance organization. The School of Political and Social Sciences is striving to manage the organization and carry out its mission to uphold the rule of law, honesty, transparency, accountability, participation and equity, including effectiveness and efficiency in administration according to good governance.

The School of Political and Social Sciences aims to be a morally upright organization, and will strive to direct the organization in order to prevent any forms of corruption, for the benefit of all stakeholders.

Announced on 7 January 2021.

Assoc. Prof. Panyupa Nopparak

Dean of the School of Political and Social Sciences